Underclassmen

A reflection on this year's Vikings.

Freshmen lead the way in underclassmen photos

For the first time in many years, the entire North High student body was photographed for the 1975 Norseman yearbook.

In all, more than a thousand were photographed, and the pictures begin on this page, showing the freshman, sophomore and junior classes in that order.

So, with these smiles, the Viking underclassmen are saying 'Hi' to the reader.

Battle cry of the Class of '76: We're next!!

Juniors, forming the Class of '76, look forward to next year when they will assume leadership of the student body.

Most will have been photographed for their senior section of the 1976 Norseman before this book is distributed.

Patience is not easy for juniors, as the count-down of days begins to the time when the seniors will be gone, and then they'll be Number One.

Viking Band

The fruits of all the efforts paid off with the look of new band uniforms. Starting out at the State Fair, the Viking Band fans cheered more and more as the year progressed.

With each home football game, the band got better and better. Under Mr. Rick Mahan's guidance, the band played both jazz-rock and blues, along with a few marches.

Along with the new look came a new idea. Band Letters! Qualifiers had to earn 1,000 points by going to football and basketball games as members of the band.

Taking private music lessons and participating in All-State or All-City were other point making activities, not to mention a few point-losing activities.

The band officers for '74-75 include something new. A junior drum major was added to the staff. Things worked out so well that there will continue to be two drum majors in front of the band.

This year the All-State students went to Scottsbluff for the annual clinic and performance. They were housed with families in the Scottsbluff area during the three-day event. All who attended had a great time and are looking forward to next year.

The Pit Orchestra was one of the most important aspects of this year's musical, "Kiss Me Kate."

It took a lot of rehearsal time and plain hard work to master the difficult music.

The Orchestra rehearsed every night after school for a month then two weeks of evening rehearsals to prepare for the three performances.

All the hard work paid off as the musical went very well.

The Viking Choir this year, along with the other vocal music classes, performed in the Christmas Program and Spring Concert. Selected members from Choir, Mixed Chorus, and Girls Glee joined with Viking Chorale in All-City, which was conducted by guest conductor Roland Hinrichs.

All Music Department students united for Homecoming when they made their float, meeting at night in Fort Omaha to put the finishing touches to it.

At semester many students moved into different music classes or just started fresh in a new class.

They were: VIKING CHOIR: Delores Allen, Sharon Hudson, Joe Jackson, Brenda Kroh; MIXED CHORUS: Keith Andrews, Susan Bybee, Jackie Langenegger, Tony Piper; GIRLS GLEE: Sherri Allen, Theresa Maness, Susan Williams; VIKING CHORALE: Rodney Allen, John Carmichael, Michele Casey, Kay Gardiner.

Viking Chorale

Officers are President Mark Stiles, Vice President Robin Fox, Librarian Bruce Lefler, Alto Section Leader Tammy Leinart, Tenor Section Leader Larry Ballard, Secretary-treasurer Donna Davey, Bass Section Leader Jeff Frolio, Soprano Section Leader Debbie Beightol.

This was Viking Chorale's first year. Basically, it was about the same as last year's Viking Choir. The group furnished the leads for this year's musical, 'Kiss Me, Kate,' and participated in the 'Aurora,' singing, "Promises, Promises."

The group was represented in All-City, with other vocal music students. Performances were made in the Spring Concert and Christmas program.

Bach was a favorite composer for the Chorale's Spring Concert effort, and the selection, "Beautiful Savior" was the theme in the Christmas program.

You sound good, boys.

Madrigals

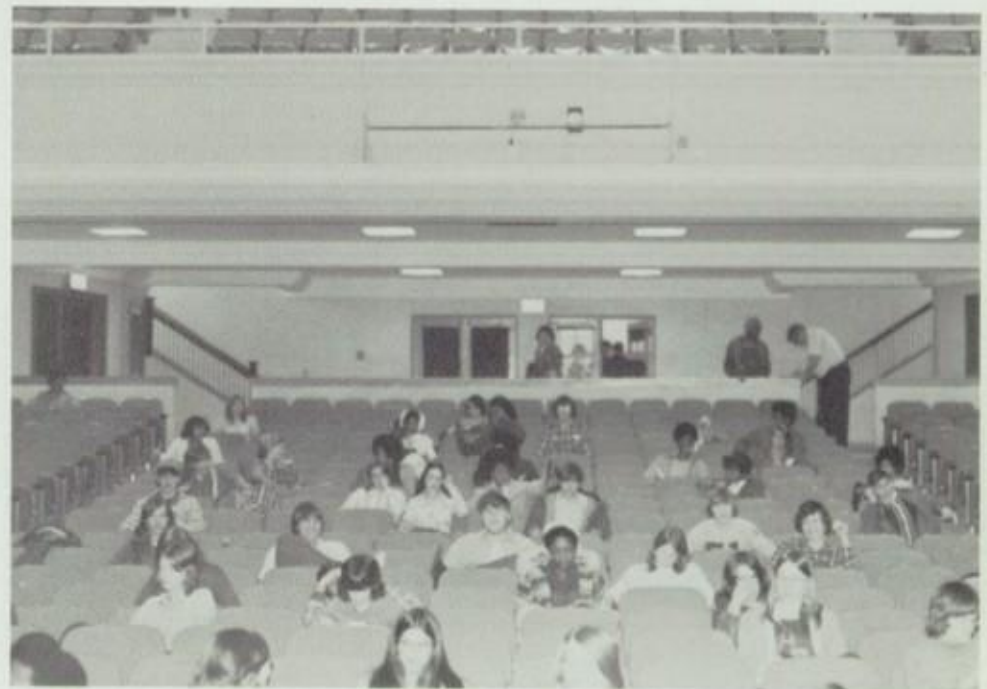

This year marks the tenth anniversary for the Madrigal singers as a public performing ensemble. The Madrigals use music in a variety of styles from the 19th century and earlier, including Baroque, and songs from both the Romantic and Impressionistic periods.

Madrigals, which are medieval lyric poems set to music, and lighter more modern pieces such as Broadway musical scores spice this vocal group's repertoire.

Concerts have been presented for many church, civic and private audiences this year with a television taping at the studios of KYNE-TV. As has been done each year since 1967, Madrigals are also producing a record.

Student Government had a real bang-up year.

Most successful was the sponsorship of the popular Homecoming activity with a larger-than-ever parade, semi-formal dance, and exciting halftime entertainment.

Representing student opinions and attitudes to the faculty and administration was an important function of the SG group.

North High was boosted through the sale of pennants, pins and other items, which paid the bills for the year.

President Fred Baker, Assistant Treasurer Brian Wilson, Vice President Tressia Brown, Treasurer Debbie McGill, Secretary Michelle Battle, Assistant Secretary Sandra McGee.

Entry in the Homecoming Parade was a leading activity.

Greggites

North's Greggite Club is composed of advanced shorthand students. The members entered a float in the Homecoming Parade and had a lot of fun, although the entry did not win. Other activities included a Thanksgiving party, Christmas party, an after-Christmas party, a skating party, an Easter party and a sledding party.

The Valentine Post Office, in which students were able to order delivery of candy and songs to friends, was an outstanding success.

Here's the crew that got things done!

Hard-working editors.

North Star Editor-in-Chief Richard Hawes has reason to smile.

North's publications staffs tried hard this year to bring Vikes lots of good news in the North Star, and a fine yearbook.

Newspaper Editor-in-Chief Richard Hawes was head of this publication during the entire year. Regular publication was attempted despite numerous school cancellations, student absences and the flu bug.

Assisting were News Editor Ron Rosman, Assistant Peter Massey; Managing Editor Mark Stiles; Feature Editors Billie Mattern and Ellen Weissinger, who were assisted by Bruce Lefler, Debbie DeBolt, Arvin Frazier and Dave Stride.

Sports Editor Gary Varley, assisted by Donna Davey and Jim Jewell; photo editors were Ellen Weissinger, Greg Pesek, Jim Keillor and Tom Williamson.

Art Editor Norm Syvertson, Business Manager Jane LaFond, Advertising Manager Larry Webber, Circulation Managers Recardo Parks and John Orr.

Reporters Faye Lee, Kevin Gilreath, Dan Simpson.

The staff of the yearbook, headed by Editor-in-Chief Steve Rapier, is listed in the front of this book.

The staff introduced the undergraduate section for the first time, and initiated a more modern, innovative display organization in this book.

Journalism Staff

Room 146 is an exciting place to be.

Spanish Club

'El Polo De Norte,' commonly known as the Spanish Club, once again was one of the more active clubs at North. Meetings were held before school whenever something needed to be discussed.

Working on a float for Homecoming was the club's first project. The theme of the float centered around a Viking (Melissa Hughes) and another famous discoverer (Janey Gozzola) racing to discover North High. The float was constructed at Karon Kurtz' home, but did not win a prize.

The 'Oktoberfest' was not held until December, and was in the form of a progressive dinner, with tasty Spanish delicacies served in the members' homes.

Christmas parties were held in each of the Spanish classes, complete with the pinata fun.

Junior Classical League

The Junior Classical League got off to a good start with the annual mum and carnation sale Homecoming day.

Members worked hard building a float for the parade. The entry did not win a prize, but all who participated had fun.

A successful stationery sale was held in the fall.

JCL members participated in various tests during the city-wide Latin convention, and participated in the state convention.

Third and fourth-year Latin students and faculty members were guests at the annual JCL banquet. Traditional Roman costumes were worn. First and second-year students served as slaves.

'Le Cercle Francais' had another busy and fun year as one of North's most active clubs. The first big event was the construction of the entry in the Homecoming Parade at the home of Julie Jensen. The efforts paid off as the float won the award as having best use of theme.

In order to raise funds, club members raked the huge Engdahl yard. The money was used to finance the annual Christmas party at the home of Mark Shapland. Everyone had fun developing fondue skills, playing pool, and singing carols. Ten dollars was sent to the Good Fellows campaign.

German Club

North High's German Club is quickly becoming one of the most enthusiastic organizations at North. Mr. Bill Bottke is the new sponsor of the group. He gave much of his time and the use of his home for club projects.

The first item for the 'Power Krauts' this year was the construction of the Homecoming float, which won the prize for best all-round entry. The whole club was proud of this achievement.

The Oktoberfest was held at the Bottke home, and sausage and sauerkraut was the main dish.

Money-making projects paved the way for a planned trip in the spring to the Amana colonies in Iowa.

Christmas found the club singing carols at Florence Heights Village, followed by a club party.

The Medical Careers Club started its first year at North with growing enthusiasm and membership. The club included students interested in careers in everything from neuro-surgery to mortuary science, as well as nursing, medicine, therapy and veterinary science.

MCC activities included tours of Immanuel Medical Center, St. Joseph's Audiology and Speech Center, Children's Hospital, and Creighton Research Center.

Members participated in the Homecoming Parade with a float, and marchers dressed as persons in the medical professions. In December, a party was given for the members by the club sponsors, Mrs. Ashkar and Mrs. Lantz.

In May, the club scheduled a visit to North by the Red Cross Bloodmobile.

Drama Club

Last year, there was never a production at North that did not involve at least one thespian. This year, nothing changed. The thespians' club is still one of the most active groups at North. During the fall musical, "Kiss Me, Kate," several lead roles were taken by club members.

In the winter, several thespians attended two drama contests at Marion High. Each entrant in the contest finished with high honors. Club members also participated in the Aurora and the spring play.

Del Klever pulls the curtain for a stage performance.

North's stage crew kept its members busy this year getting the auditorium and stage ready, and keeping it that way, for the school's great variety of programs.

Giving the crew tough assignments were the fall musical, spring play, Christmas program, and the fast moving Aurora talent show. Everything had to be ready just at the right second, or a show's timing could be way off. Pep rallies and other convocations added to the crew's job.

Larry Rankin was the faculty technical director and stage crew sponsor. His technical assistant was Del Klever, a junior.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America, or DECA as it is better known, is a club comprised of juniors and seniors presently enrolled in distributive education classes.

The club's purpose is to prepare students for a future in the business world through instruction in leadership abilities, social understanding, youth's role in the community, and general business concepts.

The year began with a rush picnic at Cooper Farm and a friendly game of touch (?) football, boys against girls.

North officers were among 400 students participating in a 'first' in Nebraska by attending the Business Youth Leadership Lab held at the Cornhusker Hotel in Lincoln early in October.

The lab not only served as a leadership learning experience, but also was a social experience as it allowed students to share ideas with members of other chapters throughout the state.

Further fun and excitement awaited DECA students at the State Leadership conference in Lincoln in late February. Each student had to exhibit skill in the various areas of marketing and distribution by challenging other Nebraska DECA members in contests.

The annual DECA initiation and officer installation was a bit different this year, an informal setting of a hayrack ride through the Bluffs, later gathering around a bonfire for the ceremony and a marshmallow roast.

Other activities included participation in inter-city DECA volleyball, and a solid victory in the DECA basketball tournament.

One of the most active groups in the school is the Black Studies Club. Its purposes:

To instill respect not only for students themselves, but also for parents, teachers and classmates; to help students learn the meaning of participation in school activities; to gain a deeper understanding of the role played by the black race; to provide members with a better understanding of the economic, political and social functions of the world.

Membership is open to anyone.

Activities for the year included co-sponsorship of the International Christmas Dance, full sponsorship of the annual faculty-student basketball game, Awards Day Program, Thanksgiving turkey raffle, and the Miss Montsho Morowa and Mr. Montsho Modio contest.

Construction Class

The building construction class, under the direction of Jim Thomson, has been organized for two years.

Projects include pouring driveway concrete, building of a basement family room, construction of a garage, church remodeling, and assorted repair and renovation jobs around the school.

The class was started to give students opportunity to gain experience by actually working on a job, rather than just reading from textbooks.

North's varsity cheerleaders started out the summer by teaching pom pom routines to the JV cheerleaders. The girls also had regular workouts at 7 a.m.

During the first part of August, the eight gals went to a cheer camp at Lake Okoboji. After days of vigorous workouts and nights of Ben-Gay, they returned home with one Outstanding, one Excellent and two Superior ribbons.

The varsity then continued practices with the JV, readying for the upcoming sports seasons. Captain this year was Kathy Hayeks; co-captain, Gaye Langfeldt.

The junior varsity cheerleaders, along with everyone in Pep Club, have been working hard to boost school spirit this year.

North's Vikettes began the school year with a trip to the State Fair in Lincoln with the Viking Band. Six hours of practice a week during the summer was the preparation for this event.

Vikettes performed during the halftime of all home football and basketball games. Early morning practices with the marching band, pot luck dinners, and participation in North's variety show, the Aurora, kept the girls busy throughout the year.

Sponsor was Carol Jackson.

Pep Club

Pep Club this year carried on an active campaign to bolster lagging school spirit of the past years. Increasing club membership was one of the club's accomplishments.

During the football season, members sold blue and gold buttons and stocking caps. These gave the Pep Club and team boosters something to distinguish them as Vikings.

Sponsors for the year were Brenda Faulkner and Shirley Schlinz.

The 'N-EH es' was started this year. It is an organization formed for the girls who have themselves lettered in a sport. In the past, very little recognition has been given to girl sports and girl letter-winners. The erection of a trophy case for girls' sports successes was one of the year's projects.

Five girls, three juniors and two seniors, organized an 'unofficial' cheer squad for the sophomores, and led cheers at three basketball games.

Student Aides

The students smiling at Norseman readers from these two pages are sort of a select group. They are the student aides—the ones who devote many hours of time each week to the service of the school in keeping things rolling smoothly in the lunchroom, halls, offices, department resource centers, classrooms—all areas of the North scene.

Many receive little notice or credit for their work. The publication of their photos on these pages is just one way to say, "Thanks."

The 1974 varsity football team lacked the consistency it needed to become a Metropolitan Conference power.

The season started with two disappointing defeats to highly touted South and Westside. The next three games were all-victorious, and the Vikes were rated as the Number Ten team in the state.

The biggest win of the year was against the Burke Bulldogs, eventual conference champion. This was the third straight year the Vikes had beaten the league champs.

All-Metro honors went to Mike Birge, Chuck Ryan and Frank Taylor. All-State honorable mention was won by Taylor.

Leonard Bond retires

More than 450 North High boosters packed the Hilton Ballroom January 22, 1975, at the recognition dinner for Leonard Bond, who retired from coaching football at the end of the 1974 season.

His won-lost record over 27 years, including the last 15 for varsity, was 139-64-10. A magnificent record

More important, though, was his contribution to the development of the youth of North Omaha.

He will be succeeded. But he will never be replaced.

North High's boys' gymnastics team finished a disappointing 8-8 season at the state gymnastics meet with two men placing in the Top Ten. They were Bob Rohlfling, fourth on the trampoline, and Tim Matthews, seventh in floor exercise.

Others in the state meet were Mike Waddell, who finished fifteenth in floor exercise, and Jim Keillor, nineteenth in vaulting. These athletes also competed in the trampoline and high bar, but did not place.

The Vikes lost very close matches to TJ, Bellevue and Central. Coach Williams said, "We could have had the best gym team North has seen in a long time, but we were plagued with injuries, like Doug Negus' leg, Bob Rohlfling's hip, and Mike Waddell's shoulder.

"When we had our first meet and they were healthy, we scored 95 points, more than 20 better than our first meet the year before."

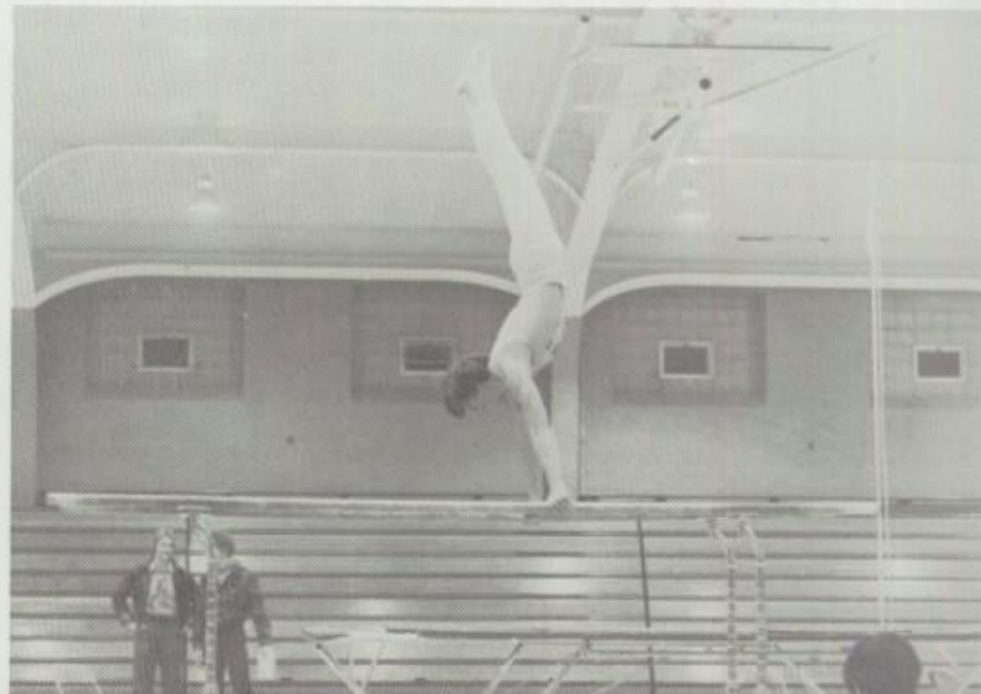

The coach said he is looking forward to next year, with freshman standout Larry Bushon, a key member.

The team had the honor of participating in the first Nebraska girls golf tournament held at the Benson Park course. The four seniors who represented North at both Metro and State were Karen Rundall, Katie McAdams, Donna Davey and Linda Loomis.

The top seven practice times ran varsity, and the second six ran JV. The Vike home field, Fontenelle, was 2.5 miles long.

Charlie Gore and Gonzales were the only returning lettermen. John Mitchell showed great promise for next year, as the junior place high in team standings.

Early in the season, Coach Murray said his players would improve, and be in top form in the late season. They did, and they were.

A big win was an overtime victory over fifth-rated Burke.

Junior Dave Powell was the Metro Conference leading scorer, with a 20.3 average per game. Senior John McGill averaged better than 14.

The boys dropped one to AL, then took the next three.

At season's end the team had taken third place in its division. Final record was set at 5-5, with a 5-2 mark in the division.

All five regular starters showed promise for future Vike JV and varsity seasons. Freshman Alfred Jones is expected to lead the sophs next year.

North's girls gymnasts had a better record this year than they have had in many years. The girls won second place in the district, and sixth place in the state.

Team leader was Tammy Driscoll, a state champion in three events. The junior was first in the floor exercise, first in balance beam, and first in the race for the coveted title of 'best all around' performer. She won second in vault, and third in the uneven bars.

Teammate Nancy Sanger won fifth place in the district on the balance beam. Members who represented the school in the state championships also included Lisa Behrens, Kristi Gloden, Cathy Worrall, and Terri Yager.

Coach Williams heaped praise on the efforts made by all the girls this year, and expressed high hopes for next year, based on the ability, confidence and attitude of the returning gymnasts.

In a building year, the Vikes' mark of 1-8 in duals does not show the record of some individuals: Clitron Partridge, 20 wins, six losses, one draw; Virgil Watson, 16-5; and Chuck Ryan, 15-3.

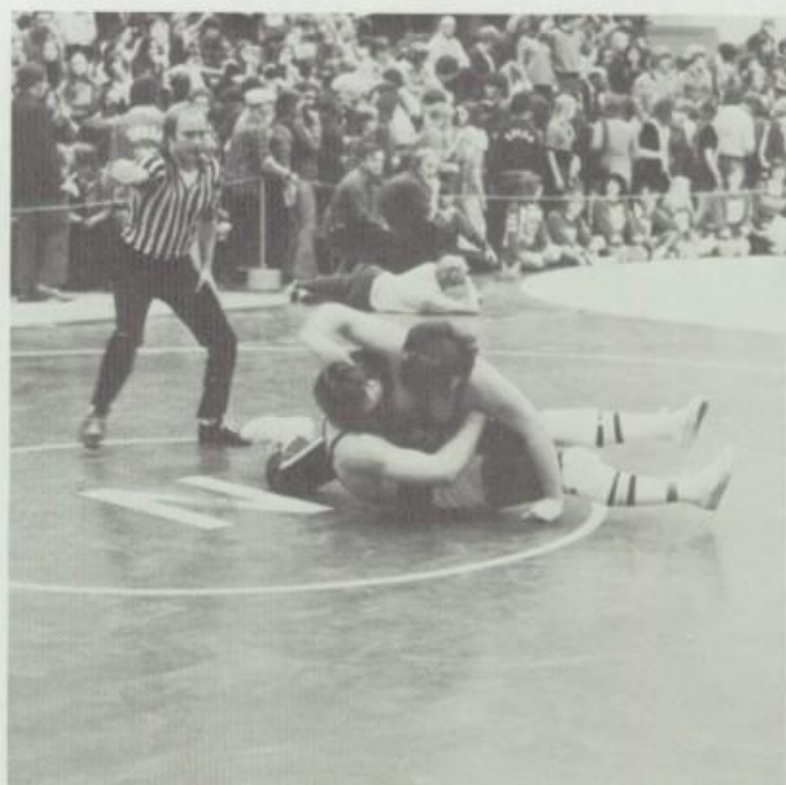

During the year, Partridge placed first in districts, fourth in Metro, and second in the North Invitational.

The 1975 Aurora proved to be a great hit this past year with the theme, "Fifty Nifty Years".

The two performances were held February 28 and March 1.

The show opened to a big success with some Viking Chorale members singing "Fifty Nifty Years." During this time, many skits were performed going from the 70's to the 20's, when North first opened.

Part of the highlight to Aurora went to North High graduates.

Slides were shown with the pictures ranging from the time the school opened to the present.

During the time the slides were being shown, the Madrigals sang "Photographs and Memories."

Aurora ended with the whole cast coming on stage and singing "Fifty Nifty Years" once again.
